

United in Purpose

We strive to...

UNITE 'key women educators' through support and friendship

HONOR women who are accomplished educational leaders at all levels

ADVANCE the professional interest and position of women in education

INITIATE, support and endorse legislation by and for all women

ENDOW scholarships for continuing education throughout the world

STIMULATE personal and professional growth and development

INFORM women of current economic social and political issues.

About Alpha Phi Chapter – Home

Quarterly meetings are held throughout the year. These gatherings support strengthening connections between chapter members as well as providing time to plan and engage in opportunities to serve educators and important initiatives in our community and throughout the world.

Meetings focus on at least one of our purposes featuring a program with refreshments, a business meeting, and fellowship.

Program topics have included:

- Sarah Laws represented North Carolina as an Education Ambassador with Go Global North Carolina and shared information about Australian Education
- Dr. Malinda Pennington and Dr. Jackson on North Carolina Educational Policies impacting teachers
- Establishing an educational foundation to support educators in North Carolina (in progress)
- Making holiday gifts for residents at Transformation Village

Special interest groups include:

- Regional Meeting to meet with members from various chapters discussing a favorite book
- Celebrations for the beginning and successful end of the school year
- Making packets of “goodies” & collecting classroom supplies for beginning and new teachers
- Valentine’s Day cards with treats provided for residents at Transformation Village

Alpha Phi Commitments to the Community and World

Our chapter reaches out to beginning teachers as well as experienced educators to encourage them in a myriad of ways.

Organizing volunteer opportunities to participate with community efforts WNC Nature Center, Manna Food Bank, Transformation Village, and networking opportunities with other chapters is a vital aspect of our mission
